Emmy Award Winner Jacob Young at the Marion County Fair!!!

This year's Marion County Fair offers you a perfect chance to meet ABC's television heart throb, JR Chandler from the network television soap "All My Children." For those of you who may not know the character, JR Chandler, has been played by Jacob Young who received a Daytime Emmy Award nomination in his first year on the show in 2003 and was nominated again in 2005. Young previously won a Daytime Emmy for outstanding lead actor in May of 2002 for his role as Lucky Spencer on "General Hospital."

Jacob, who is a Washington State native, says his character may leave behind a lot of broken hearts on the television series each day, but the Marion County Fair meet and greet sessions will offer area soap opera fans plenty of opportunity to get up close and personal with him.

There will be two live meet and greet sessions with award winning television actor Jacob Young aka JR Chandler on Saturday, July 12 and Sunday, July 13, starting at 12:00 p.m. Each session will be broadcast live on KBZY and hosted by Terry Sol.

Since Jacob is both quite the heart throb in looks and has proved to be quite talented, Mr. Young is a perfect choice to be a guest judge for the Marion County Fair's Pretty Baby Contest, Saturday, July 12, at 10:00 a.m. and the Talent Show Finals, Saturday, July 12, at 3:00 pm.
