

Commissioner Colm Willis

---

Commissioner Colm Willis was elected to his first term in 2018. Prior government experience includes serving as an aide in the United Senate for the Joint Economic Committee analyzing economic data and staffing congressional hearings with Federal Reserve Chairman Ben Bernanke.

Commissioner Willis is a licensed business attorney and has represented individuals, nonprofits, and entrepreneurs in the Willamette Valley. He volunteers on the Catholic Community Services Foundation Board of Directors.

Commissioner Willis holds a Bachelor of Arts from Boston College and Juris Doctor from the Willamette University College of Law. Colm lives in Stayton with his wife and four daughters.