 Reducing Recidivism

Strengthening Our Community

Ending the cycle of crime means teaching pro-social life skills, mentoring students to graduate, providing job skills training, and facilitating the successful reunion of parents with their children.

MCRI HELPS INDIVIDUALS REMAIN CRIME FREE THROUGH:

- Working with businesses to employ emerging talent
- Transitional housing that is supervised, drug-free, safe, and accountable
- Skill building for today's workforce
- Treatment, counseling, and community resources
- Providing support and encouragement

COMMUNITY SAFETY

Helping ex-offenders successfully integrate into the community is crime prevention. Prior to being released from prison, individuals attend one or more "reach-in" workshops to learn about resources available and ready to help them when they reenter our community. In Marion County, reach-ins are working - prior to the reach-ins, a third of individuals released were not initially checking in with their parole officer. Now our no-show rate is just three percent.

EMPLOYMENT SOLUTIONS

MCRI works with more than 200 employers to support them in extending job opportunities to qualified reentry clients.

TRANSITION SOLUTIONS

MCRI supports multiple programs that help individuals successfully transition from incarceration back into the community. This includes "reach-in" workshops that individuals attend prior to their release from incarceration and reentry programs that incorporate community partners such as Chemeketa Community College.

RESOURCE SOLUTIONS

The De Muniz Resource Center helps individuals obtain Oregon identification, health insurance, education, transportation, basic needs, employment, and other services.

TREATMENT SOLUTIONS

Local medical and treatment providers support MCRI participants through individualized care and service coordination.

RETURN ON INVESTMENT

The cost of incarceration is far greater than the cost of providing supportive services that help individuals to be successful. Savings are realized in part by reductions in recidivism. Marion County's recidivism rate dropped from 33% in 2009 to an all-time low of 14% in 2014. Between 2015 and 2018, Marion County's annual recidivism rate has held at a steady 20%.
