Curbside Recycling Update

Jolene Kelley gave the Council an update on the Communications Meetings that had been held in the weeks prior. A team of representatives from the haulers, the county, the City of Salem, and Garten Services are working together to make sure that a clear, consistent message is given to the public on the recycling changes due to the shift in the market. Jolene explained that the group is designing a yearlong campaign with the goal of changing public behavior and getting accurate information out. The group will be forming a single website to get the unified message out, working with the Statesman Journal’s editorial board, and more. The language that the group is using comes from the Oregon Refuse and Recycling Association (ORRA) recommendations regarding what can and cannot go into the curbside recycling cart.

WASTE CHARACTERIZATION STUDY RESULTS - PETER PENDELOW, DEQ

Peter Spendelow presented the 2016/2017 Waste Characterization Study results. He explained what the DEQ’s method is for conducting these studies and how they do their load sampling. Peter broke down disposal rates by material and compared them to previous years. He showed the Council how Marion County was doing in comparison to the state as a whole. After reviewing the study, Peter started the discussion on why recycling is important, how smart recycling needs to be a priority, and how we need to conserve natural resources as much as possible. There was time for questions and answers at the end of his presentation and discussion.
